

Summer Reading List for the Twos

Bark George, by Jules Feifer

George is a dog who has a real problem! Instead of barking he quacks, moos and makes various other animal sounds. His mother is concerned and takes him to the vet. Read this hilarious book and see if George is able to find his "ARF"!!!

Bus for Us, by Suzanne Bloom

Each wonderfully illustrated page shows part of a vehicle. The children have to guess what vehicle is being shown on the next page. This is a great book for picture recognition.

Busy Town, by Richard Scarry

Take a walk along the street and meet many of the people who work in the town. The children will get to know the postal worker, the grocer, the banker and the doctors and nurses. This is a great introduction to community helpers.

The Daddy Mountain, by Jules Feiffer

Climbing the Daddy Mountain takes much courage and hard work. After reading this with your children see if they can climb their very own Daddy Mountain! Will Mommy react the same way as the Mommy did in the story?

Higher! Higher!, by Leslie Patricelli

Daddy pushes his little girl on a swing. She imagines all kinds of things that she can see as her swing goes higher into the sky. The swing and the girl's imagination go higher and higher in this story!!! It ends with the familiar "AGAIN"!!!

Llama Llama Misses Mama, by Anna Dewdney

Little Llama starts her very first day of school. She is more than a little sad to say goodbye to her Mama. This book will ring true for all Mamas and Daddies when sending their little ones off to school for the first time!

Ten Little Fingers and Ten Little Toes, by Mem Fox

Mem Fox has been writing outstanding children's books for many years. This is a story about diversity among babies and young children. The rhyming words make it fun for children to learn this important concept. The babies come from all over the world but they all have ten little fingers and ten little toes!!!

Three Little Kittens and Other Nursery Rhymes, by Tony Ross

This is a classical book of nursery rhymes. It is filled with a great sense of humor. This will definitely be a "keeper" in your storybook collection!

It is never too early to start reading to your children. It is such a terrific way to share your love of reading with them!!

HAVE A WONDERFUL SUMMER!!!
